Congressmen Split Over Idea of RFC War Loans to Reds

Congressional Approval Before Russ Gets Cash Demanded by Danaher

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—The question of a war loan for Russia produced a sharp division in legislative opinion today, and Senator Danaher (R-Conn.) demanded that congress be given full details before any credits are placed at soviet disposal for the purchase of military supplies here.

Danaher called attention to the statement of Jesse Jones that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be ready to make a cash loan to Russia for war purposes, if and when they need it, assuming that the administration policy favored such assistance.

The Connecticut senator told reporters he thought it "preposterous" to ask American taxpayers to foot the bills when Russian resources are fully equal to our own.

Jones, the Federal Loan Administrator, told his press conference Wednesday that no formal application for credits had been received from Russia, but some explanatory conversations had taken place.

His announced readiness to consider an RFC loan for Russia won quick support from Senators Thomas (D-Utah) and Bailey (D-NC), advocates of increased aid to countries fighting Germany.

Would Aid Rattlesnakes
Bailey told newsmen that while he held no brief for the soviet form of government, he did not think ideological dislikes should deter this country from any material contribution it could make to hasten a German defeat.

"If it was a den of rattlesnakes opposing Hitler, I would aid and abet them," he declared.

Taking much the same view, Thomas called it good business to extend the credits, if the United States were promised payment in vital raw materials, such as Russian manganese ore.

While Danaher saw no objection to establishment of a medium of dollar exchange by which Russia would convert some of her natural resources into cash to buy war supplies here, he forecast strenuous opposition to any move to accept a "promissory note" from the soviets, which Jones had indicated might be sufficient.

"Congress ought to be told the basis, the nature and the extent of any commitments before credit is granted," he maintained.

Nevertheless, Danaher said he believed that there was little congress could do to block such a loan since it had authorized the Export-Import bank and RFC agencies to engage in such transactions.

Comment on Message
Sharing interest with the Russian loan question was the continued discussion of the special message which President Roosevelt transmitted to congress yesterday reporting on his seagoing meeting with Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The 8-point statement issued after that meeting mentioned as one of its goals "freedom from fear and want" for the people of the world, and Roosevelt's message said that this declaration "includes of necessity the freedom of religion and freedom of information."

Some house Democrats said they thought that section of the message would take care of the criticism which came from some quarters because "freedom of information."

Order Extending Service Issued

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 22—(AP)—Implementing the selective service extension act, President Roosevelt directed in an executive order today that the term of service be extended 18 months for selectees, reservists, National Guardsmen and enlisted personnel in the army.

The order was more or less a formality required under the extension act.

It provided that despite the extension, persons who have served for twelve months may be released as the interests of national defense permit.

Selectees, the order said, may be transferred to the reserves, after a year's service, "with a view to the early creation of a large training reserve, while at the same time maintaining the army in immediate readiness for use in the defense of the nation."

Reservists now on active duty would be let out after a year, when they could be spared, under such regulations as the secretary of war might prescribe, and a like procedure would be followed for enlisted men of the regular army.

Finnish Freighter Second Ship Afire In New York Harbor

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—A fire of mysterious origin aboard the war-stranded Finnish motorship freighter Aurora raged for five hours today, the second ship fire here within five days.

First Officer Conrad Fries of Helsinki Finland was suffocated as he slept in the 4,956-ton vessel at her Hudson river anchorage a mile north of the George Washington bridge at 2:20 a.m. (1:20 a.m. CST). Other members of the crew of 18, including two waitresses, were rescued by police and private boats.

At the same time police announced seven more deaths resulting from a $1,500,000 Brooklyn waterfront blaze of Monday in which the American freighter Panuco, her pier and several barges, were destroyed or badly damaged. That brought the death toll for that fire to 26 and left seven men missing.

The Aurora, listing badly from the water in her holds, was ordered beached on the New Jersey shore near Englewood Cliffs.

Authorities said they had uncovered no evidence of sabotage in a preliminary investigation.

Loaded with a rich cargo of linseed oil, wool, hides, grains and other items from Buenos Aires, Curacao and Lagunaira the Aurora put into New York July 28 because of Finland's entry into the war. Her operators said the job of trying to reach Helsinki through the British blockade was too risky.

U. S. Fliers Had No Part in Nazi Chase

Reykjavik, Aug. 22—(AP)—U. S. pilots remained on the ground during the air alarm here Wednesday in which American-built Tomahawk fighter planes chased away a German Heinkel bomber, it was stated authoritatively today.

British airmen put the invader to flight without its having dropped any bombs. The German plane disappeared before the British got within firing range.

Not only did American airmen not take off, but anti-aircraft batteries of the U. S. forces stationed here were silent throughout the alarm.

There are no American service pilots flying for the British air force in Iceland, authorities said.

12 Men Aboard Powerless, Rudderless Barge at Mercy of Ocean Gale

San Pedro, Calif., Aug. 22—(AP)—Twelve defense workers, who had anticipated a gay time in Honolulu, are being blown about the Pacific on a powerless, rudderless dredge by a gale.

The dredge, a $500,000, thousand-ton craft owned by the Standard Dredging Co. of New York, was torn from its towing steamer, the S. S. Chippewa, at 1 a. m. (3 a. m. CST) yesterday. Its position then was given as 1240 miles due east of Honolulu. It was enroute to Honolulu for use on a navy project.

Capt. John Allison of the Chippewa radioed an appeal to "rush" navy tug from coast and one from Honolulu.

Home Builders Are Feeling Priority

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Private home builders are beginning to feel the pinch of defense priorities.

Contractors—in some cases scouring the jobbers' markets for builders' hardware, nails, copper gutters and piping—today were pressing the Office of Production Management, the Office of Price Administration and Civilian Supply, and their own trade associations, for some word of the future.

From Atlanta, Ga., for instance, came word that only one dealer there had any No. 8 nails and even his supply was nearly gone.

Similar situations were reported in other parts of the nation. Zinc-coated nails, needed for shingling and other weathering, exposed parts of a dwelling unit, were very scarce.

OPACS and OPM advised private home builders in non-defense areas to "sit tight" while government agencies work out allocation programs to meet construction needs.

Housing authorities of the government also reported shortages and said it was difficult even for army camps to get supplies.

Large Truck Rolls Into Ditch Near Here This Morning

A large tractor-trailer truck travelling east on the Lincoln Highway, left the paving at the Rainbow Inn corner this morning about 6 o'clock and rolled over in the ditch.

Two trucks going in opposite directions met at the dangerous curve, which has been the scene of many accidents over a period of years, and the driver of the east-bound truck was reported to have attempted to avoid sidswiping the other machine, and in so doing, the load in the trailer shifted, overturning the truck.

The trailer contained a heavy piece of machinery, which was believed to have been only slightly damaged. The driver was thrown over in the ditch, but fortunately escaped with only minor bruises.

About 7 o'clock this morning a truck belonging to Ray Duffy of Amboy, turned over on the Lincoln Highway at Seventh street and Chicago avenue. The driver had parked the panel delivery truck at a service station near the junction of U. S. routes 330 and 52 and during his absence the brakes released, permitting the vehicle to roll down the hill almost to Seventh street before it overturned. The truck and contents were damaged slightly.

Two Eskimos Sentenced On Manslaughter Charge

Belcher Islands, Hudson Bay, Canada, Aug. 22—(AP)—Peter Sala and Charlie Querach, two of the four Eskimos convicted of manslaughter in the deaths of nine persons during a religious dispute last spring, were sentenced last night to two years at hard labor at the Chesterfield inlet police post.

An Eskimo called Ablaykok was given a one-year sentence while Peter Quarack was given a suspended sentence of two years.

Sala and Querach were said to have claimed divinity, giving rise to dissent among their tribesmen and precipitating the deaths by clubbing, shooting or exposure to a blizzard.

Death-Stand Defense of Leningrad by Its Citizens Announced

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

We cannot dismiss lightly as mere propaganda the statement by the German news agency that the Russian war is being fought to gain preconditions for the final struggle with Britain, since signs multiply that this is true.

Propaganda is doubtless is, and likely intended largely for home consumption. After all, things can't be too cheerful these days in Germany with an endless line of trains bearing wounded home from the bloodiest conflict in history, and the Frankfurter Zeitung urging people to postpone their vacations because "several hundred thousand hospital beds have been installed in numerous hotels and are not available for transients."

However, there are plenty of indications that Herr Hitler is getting set for further great offensives in the Mediterranean and western theaters if fortune gives him the break in his efforts against the bolsheviks. Of more immediate concern, fresh trouble is boiling up fast in the near East.

There's no question about the fuhrer's intent; there's considerable question about his ability to carry out his full program in the immediate future. He's got to dispose of those fighting Reds before he can go all-out again in the west, and the bad weather is on its way. As I passed through well-nigh deserted Fifth avenue at daybreak this morning I saw a drab little scrub-lady—looking wistfully at a fur-trimmed coat in a show window, and such is the association of ideas in a mind attuned to thoughts of war that I immediately said to myself:

"It's going to be a cold, tough time for the Hitlerian armies if the get caught in the snows of a Russian winter."

We get a view of Herr Hitler's purposes in two highly significant dispatches. These are:

1. Reports from German-occupied France say improvements are being rushed on defenses in French African colonies, including Dakar which in hostile hands would constitute a grave menace to trans-Atlantic shipping, and a potential threat to the western hemisphere.

2. German military activity along the Turkish frontiers to Bulgaria Greece give rise to the thought that the nazis likely are getting ready to seize the Dardanelles from the Turks, and perhaps may try to drive through Turkey into other parts of the Near East.

The French undoubtedly would say that the military preparation in their colonies is for defense against all comers—ally or nazi. That may be true, but in considering that thought I come up against a little item from Berlin, saying Germany has granted France a reduction on occupation costs from 400,000,000 francs a day to 300,000,000.

Why such a cut? Maybe the fuhrer has done it out of the kindness of his heart, but one suspects that he is buying something. What? Well, we know that the thing he wants most from Vichy is use of French colonial bases.

Barring a quick and unexpected collapse of the Red armies, it isn't probable that Hitler will find it feasible to attempt an invasion of

He urged reading of the Constitution regularly and added: "It is my firm conviction that when the people of this age stop thinking so highly of themselves and start working together for a return to the kind of government which the writers of the Constitution intended us to have, then we will have better government."

Guidance of Nation Back to Solid Basis Up to Midwest Says Barrett

Attorney General George F. Barrett of Illinois declared in his speech opening the Lee County Fair & Horse Show at Assembly park this afternoon that, under the guise of emergencies, many constitutional rights have been threatened or actually taken away from the people.

When the emergencies have passed, he said, it will be largely the duty of the great agricultural middle west to provide leaders who will "unshackle" the farmer and guide the country "back to a solid basis."

Thousands Rush to Aid of Beleaguered Army There

(By The Associated Press)

German-allied Finnish troops reported today they had captured the Russian stronghold of Karkisalmi, 75 miles north of Leningrad, and destroyed the main body of the soviet 168th division below Sortavala.

The Finnish high command said Red army troops had been encircled at two points northwest of Lake Ladoga and that the 142nd, 198th, 265th and 115th divisions had been thrown back with heavy losses. This would represent about 75,000 men for the five divisions.

While the Finns drove down toward Leningrad on the north, nazi forces were attacking from two directions in the south, in the Kingisepp sector, 75 miles southwest of Leningrad, and in the Novorod sector, 100 miles south.

Thousands of men rushed from Leningrad to stem the advance of German siege columns today while other tens of thousands toiled to erect street fortifications for a death-stand defense of the old czarist capital, defying nazi threats to lay the city in ruins.

Great numbers of Leningrad civilians were reported volunteering for service in an "opolchenie" or people's army.

Leningrad "Military Camp" Dispatches from Moscow said that the big industrial center, Russia's second largest city, was now a "formidable military camp" and that after four days of bitter fighting on the outer perimeter of Leningrad's defenses, the Germans appeared to have scored no significant new gains.

In Berlin, authorized quarters said the Russians were hurling fresh reserves into the battle along the whole front and acknowledged that the Red army was maintaining "islands of opposition" both in the Dnieper bend of the Ukraine and behind German advanced lines on the central front.

Simultaneously, the Germans admitted a new call had been made for nazi reserves—men 17 to 45 to serve in Hitler's elite SS corps, which has been in the thick of the fighting since the Russian campaign began. Soviet communiques have frequently reported the annihilation of SS units.

Battleline Aflame
Russian military dispatches, picturing the whole battleline aflame, declared that Red army troops were pressing a fierce counter-offensive on the central front, with soviet cavalry detachments thrusting deep behind the German lines.

A Tass (official Russian news agency) correspondent said beleaguered Leningrad was echoing to the sounds of marching men through its broad squares and parks to join the "opolchenie", supporting the regular army at the front.

All through the night, a soviet bulletin said, Red army troops battled in late summer rainstorms to check the main nazi drives around Novgorod, 100 miles south of Leningrad, and Kingisepp, 70

Economic Embargo On Japan Growing

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 22—(AP)—President Roosevelt ordered today a 50 per cent increase in the tariff on imported crab meat, of which Japan is the chief source of supply.

This action was taken in a proclamation declaring that the duties on imported crab meat shall be raised from 15 to 22½ per cent ad valorem.

The proclamation said the increase was necessary to equalize a difference in costs of production between Japan and the United States which was determined by an investigation by the Tariff Commission.

While the proclamation was an innocent-looking document on its surface, it constituted a link in a chain of economic measures taken by the United States government after Japan moved into air and naval bases in southern French Indo-China.

The most far-reaching step was the freezing of Japanese credits in this country and the imposition of a form of export control. But observers noted that fishing is a primary occupation of the Japanese and that crab meat has been an important export.

Majority of Draftees Will Not Get Bonus in Pay Until Next Year

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Thousands of regular army enlisted men will start drawing a $10 monthly raise in their next pay envelopes, but army officials said that a large proportion of the draftees for whom the bonus was chiefly intended will not be eligible for it before next year.

Congress voted the increase for the entire rank and file of the army in connection with the legislation extending the maximum service period of the men by 18 months, but it is payable only after the men have completed 12 months' service.

War department officials said there were no estimates available as to how many soldiers would begin getting the increased pay at once, but said it probably would go to at least 246,000 men of the regular army. None of the draftees has completed a year's service yet and not more than about 20,000 or 30,000 will have done so by the end of the year. The $10 increase will boost a private's pay to $40 monthly. Under the old law a private was paid $21 a month for the first three months, then was raised to $30.

Nursery School News

(Written by Mabel Entorf, Head Teacher)

Monday morning was a dark and dreary day but 17 little children came to school. Several were ill and we hope they will be back in a few days. We were so surprised to see 3-year-old Pauline McDowell sitting on the steps when we came. Pauline has been living in Chester and she said she was so glad to come back. She asked me the name of one of the little girls and I said "Her name is Peggy," and she said "I think she is the sweetest girl I ever saw."

We also welcomed Charles and Douglas Koch, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Koch. Charles is 3 and Douglas is 2.

Last Thursday we had a grand surprise. Mrs. Lawler and daughter Mary drove up to the school and they had Mr. White with them. They all came in and of course Mr. White had to stay. He had been away so long he was anxious to get back with the children and of course toys had to be mended and Mr. White mended them. He said he had so much to do here and we hope he will gain each day because we need him.

I was so glad to hear from Windy Ann Holladay. Windy and her mother are very busy and she goes to the gymnasium four times a week and will go to the swimming pool twice a week soon. We know Windy will be a good swimmer when she comes home. Mrs. Holladay and Windy read our Nursery News each week and know what is going on. Windy says she misses her little friends and wants to be remembered to them, and would like to hear from them. Her address is 2418 1/2 S. Hope, Los Angeles, Cal. We hope Windy will get mail because little girls get lonely when they are so many miles away from home.

We want to thank Mrs. Elizabeth

Murtough and Mrs. James Jones for newspapers.

Mrs. Jordan, area supervisor, called on us last Thursday. She was very much pleased with our school and said we had the finest school grounds of any of the Nursery schools and we all agree with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gilbert and son John Lyle and daughter Sharon of Dixon were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Foley and sons Saturday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Schofield have returned home after a three weeks vacation in Wisconsin and Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and daughter Louise spent Sunday sightseeing at Brookfield zoo.

Mrs. Temperance Tilton left Tuesday for Ashton to spend several weeks visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bohart.

Mrs. Stanley Clarke and son Ronie of LaGrange, Mrs. Otto Schade and Mrs. Milton Vaupel of Ashton spent Tuesday with their father Leon Barlow.

Suspended Chicagoan Freed on One Charge

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Thomas P. Morrissey, 45, a suspended city water department employee, was free today on one charge of perjury but awaited trial Sept. 18 on a second. Judge Julius H. Miner of the Criminal court yesterday dismissed a charge that Morrissey perjured himself by falsely representing himself as a Chicago resident in registering for the April, 1940, primary.

The state contended he was a resident of Monsee. Morrissey testified he spent considerable time in Monsee, visiting a son, that he had a Monsee vehicle tag on his car because he kept it there, but that he always had voted in Chicago.

The second perjury charge was based on an affidavit which the state alleged Morrissey made after receiving a suspect notice challenging his right to vote in Chicago.

McPherson's Church Takes Stand Against Divorce of Ministers

Los Angeles, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson's church has adopted a by-law which at one time would have barred the famous evangelist herself from its ministry.

Over the opposition of Aimee's son, Rolf K. McPherson, the International Church of the Four Square Gospel voted to forbid its ministers who have been divorced to remarry.

Mrs. McPherson has been married three times and twice divorced. Her marriage to Rolf's father, Harold McPherson, whom she married after the death of her first husband, Robert Semple, ended in divorce.

A subsequent marriage, to David Hutton, then a choir singer in Angelus Temple, also was followed by a divorce.

Mrs. McPherson, founder-president of the church, supported the new regulation during a two-hour discussion in its 19th annual convention yesterday. She declared she had observed that "God blesses those who have taken a stand against divorce."

Convention leaders said the by-law is not retroactive in its application.

Presence of Negro Troops at Gurdon, Ark., Is Resented

Prescott, Ark., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Friction between negro soldiers from the north and white residents of southwest Arkansas, where the Second Army is conducting maneuvers was described by Maj. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, Jr., commanding the Seventh Corps, last Saturday night as having been satisfactorily settled.

Subsequent checks on his headquarters and in the field brought information that there had been "no developments" in connection with what the general described as "racial difficulties", leading to the departure without authority of 43 negro members of the 84th engineer battalion, which figured in a series of incidents in the vicinity of Gurdon, Ark. The unit has a personnel of 1,050.

Those "going over the hill" left word with buddies they were returning to their home station at Fort Cluster, Mich., and were not deserting. General Richardson announced instructions had been given to military police "to apprehend them and return them to their command" in south Arkansas.

Three "Incidents" Subsequently, military sources said, an Arkansas state policeman directed a negro sentry on the highway to return to his camp.

The 84th bivouac was then ordered changed to a remote section of Clark county, far removed from any town or community, and military sources said state police had stopped a negro column moving to the new camp, leading to a disturbance in which one white officer of the battalion was alleged to have been struck. A special detachment of 150 military police from Prescott restored order on the highway.

After the negro unit was settled in its new bivouac, no further incidents occurred, but the A. W. O. L.'s followed during the next several nights.

A conference between army men and Arkansas state police brought a formal army announcement that "an agreement was made that will obviate any difficulties due to the presence of negro troops in this vicinity."

Figures on British Oil Tanker Fleet Are Branded as Erroneous

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Ralph K. Davies, acting petroleum coordinator, said Thursday that "wholly and completely false" figures intended to show that Britain has an ample oil tanker fleet were being circulated, apparently in a deliberate effort to confuse the public.

His statement was issued, Davies said, in reply to unofficial reports that it was unnecessary to transfer American tankers to Britain.

"The inadequacy of British and allied control tankers to fulfill their war time tasks as indicated by conclusive evidence in our hands," he said, "is such as to warrant fully the transfer of American tankers to aid in the transportation of oil."

The acting coordinator told the public "to use caution in accepting figures circulated with a definite purpose by uninformed and unofficial sources."

Number of army nurses has increased from 942 a year ago to more than 5,000 and will reach 8,000 by 1942.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Dixon

Dear Friends:

For the past three years I have been attending the stage shows presented by the Grand Detour Players in historic old Illini Hall. I have never missed a single production in all that time, because I enjoy the refreshing type of entertainment they are bringing to the Rock River Valley.

This week they are giving a delightful comedy called "She Couldn't Marry Three." I saw it last night, and honestly I laughed from the first curtain to the last. It's clean, wholesome and all-American and I know you'll love it.

If you've never seen this talented, capable group perform, I suggest you pay them a visit and I know you'll be more than satisfied. If you have seen them before, don't miss this week's show, because it's their best.

Sincerely yours,

PETER PIPER.

P. S.—Drop in after the show and say "hello."

A Thought for Today

A living dog is better than a dead lion.—Ecclesiastes 9:4.

The art of living is more like wrestling than dancing.—Marcus Aurelius.

An interesting sidelight on the Nazi occupation of Greece recently came to light in an eye-witness story by Ralph Kent, who was there when the Germans came.

It seems that the Germans naturally seized most of the food in sight, ate what they could, and sent the rest back to Germany. But about the time they had finished, they were ordered onward, probably to Russia. Eighty thousand of Mussolini's troops were then brought on to do police duty over the conquered. But all the good food had already been consumed by the Germans, and the Italians have had to make-shift with what was left, which wasn't much.

Somehow that looks like an adequate forecast of what Italy may look forward to in event of Italian victory—Mussolini would get whatever was left after Hitler had taken everything he wanted.

Our Health! It's Not Good Enough

How the United States would stand up with other countries in regard to the number of men called up for military service and rejected, we don't know. Others countries are now up against more pressing matters than compiling such statistics.

But after all, we do know this: When almost half the young men called up for military service are found unfit to serve, we know that the national health isn't good enough.

It isn't as bad as it looks, but it isn't good enough. Let's get the favorable factors out of the way first: A man may be quite healthy enough for ordinary purposes, and still be rejected for military purposes, as witness some of the professional athletes who get a living by physical prowess but aren't good enough for the army. Examinations are far more thorough than they used to be, and unquestionably many are rejected who would have been gladly taken in the old days. Standards are higher; the emergency is not as immediately grave. In short, many a man rejected by the army may feel fine, and live to be 104 and tell tall lies about what he did for his country back in 1941.

The figures, in other words, doesn't mean that half the young American manhood is ailing and unfit for ordinary life.

But they are disturbing none the less. It is not the highest aim of a social order to turn out a population which shall be 100 per cent perfect for the drill field. There are other considerations. But it would certainly seem that a normal population, well-balanced, with the "sound mind in a sound body" ideal of the Greeks, would produce better than 50 per cent of sound physical specimens.

Great efforts have been made to preserve the health of the people, especially of youth, during the past decade of depressed conditions. While it would not seem to have been too successful, it is a fairly shuddery thought to consider what might have been the effect had the effort not been made at all.

Probably one of the things that is needed now is to teach people how to eat, as well as to provide a way for them to get something to eat. It is perfectly possible to be fully fed and undernourished at the same time. Every effort to spread knowledge of nutrition is a national asset.

Not All Wasted

Not by any means all of the money being poured out for national defense is being wasted. Some of it—nobody knows just how much—is going for purposes that will be served after the emergency has passed. For instance, construction and improvement projects on 288 airports scattered over the United States have just been announced by the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Eighty millions are going into this, but—

When the war is over, there will certainly be a great increase in civilian flying. Thousands of trained pilots in every major country will seek to use their skills in making a living. It has already been predicted that the day is in sight when every bit of first-class mail in the country will be air-borne. That means airports, bigger, better, and more frequent airports. Dividend?

Cuba Joins the Parade

Germany is always plaintively wondering why other nations won't treat her on terms of equality. The reason is plain. Germany won't act on terms of equality.

Cuba has now joined in the parade of countries sending Nazi consuls back home. Minister of State Cortina said "The government has been able to prove that German Consul Helsingier had engaged in activities apart from those inherent in his post and which affected the security of Cuba."

Same old story. Same old claim that they are somehow superior, privileged, unwilling to abide by the ordinary rules observed by others. Country after country has found such pretensions intolerable. Nobody wants to take away from Germany such a position in the world as it has earned by its legitimate achievements; for it to seize a position of special privilege—this, the world will not permit.

It Didn't Have To Look

A short time before the Petain-Darlan regime in France made its decision to help Germany in establishing its sway over Europe, a summer storm came to the little town of Versailles, seat of France's ancient glories.

Two statues, one of Lafayette, one of General Pershing, stood on opposite sides of a street there. As the storm rose in violence, the statue of General Pershing away from its pedestal, fell, and shattered into a million fragments on the pavement.

At least it never had to witness the events to come.

Speaking of home—when a woman is out of her place, everything else is.

"Father" of Army's New Armored Force Dies at Age of 57

Major General Chaffee Sacrifices Self in Making of Force

Boston, Aug. 22—(AP)—Major General Adna R. Chaffee, 57, the first commander of the army's new armored force, died today at the Massachusetts General hospital after suffering a physical breakdown during an intensive drive to build up and organize the special mechanized defense units.

A statement by the war department said that the officer, whose fatal illness set in last winter after he had returned to work following a previous siege of pneumonia, had "sacrificed himself in the making of the armored force."

Once described as "one of the great army men", the slight, wiry Chaffee received, even as he lay in his final illness, citations from the national government for his work in fathering the new branch of the army.

Shortly before his death, the senate confirmed his nomination by President Roosevelt for permanent appointment as a major general, a rank he previously held temporarily. A short time before that, he was presented an oak-leaf cluster citation to go with the distinguished service medal he won in the World War.

Chaffee, one of the thinnest of officers in the army, underwent an operation at Walter Reed hospital in Washington last winter.

Adna Romanza Chaffee won his major general's stars principally because he hitched his wagon to a tank.

In 1930 he predicted that tank-powered armies could do virtually what the nazis accomplished ten years later in their blitzkrieg of the low countries and France.

Chaffee was an air-minded officer, not only in theory, but in reality, friends said. He suffered two cracked ribs when a plane in which he was a passenger made a forced landing in Indiana in 1933 because of bad weather, but the mishap didn't change the general's opinion of flying.

He long fought to take the army out of the horse and buggy stage and mechanize it.

As a general staff officer in 1930 he made a speech at the Army War College in which he predicted the next war would see employment of highly mobile, heavily armored units with terrific fire power.

Some officers considered the address too visionary and impractical.

It wasn't long, however, before the war department began putting the ideas of Chaffee and other mechanization-minded officers into something more tangible than paper plans.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON
(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 22 — Mr. Churchill, with the aid and knowledge of Mr. Roosevelt, is opening up a new line of supplies into Russia from the head of the Persian gulf. The rail line north to the Caspian sea is thin and wobbly in spots, and all the goods will have to be reloaded on ships for transportation across that sea. But it will be a fairly safe line into Russia, relatively free from both the nazis and Japs, and it can be exploited during the winter.

Roosevelt, at the instance of Churchill, is already opening a new bomber-ferry route directly to the Near East, through Africa, out of reach of the nazis. This also can feed bombers into Russia through the winter, although that angle has not been stressed here.

With Vladivostok, only mildly menaced so far by the Japs, as an all-winter port directly across the Pacific, Roosevelt and Churchill stand in a fair way to implement forcefully their joint promise of aid to the Reds.

How it will work out all depends upon the success of negotiations at the Moscow conference of British and U. S. representatives with Stalin. If the Red dictator wants help, and offers reasonable terms, he can get it (not much perhaps from the British who have little to spare, but from us.)

The vague yarns being told about Roosevelt now expecting the Reds not only to last through the winter but two more years, developed immediately upon his return from the Churchill conference. The White House apparently did not know exactly how it would look in print and shushed such "overly optimistic" interpretations with a denial.

No one will assume to relate what Churchill told Roosevelt that the British opinion has always been more optimistic than American on this subject.

Actually, of course, the situation is so dangerous that neither the German nor Russian high command could know exactly how it will come out, but the available information in the hands of the government pictures the latest changes, somewhat as follows:

General Budyenny escaped from the trap of the nazis in the Ukraine with a substantial part of his shriveled force, now much, only he knows. One dispatch indicates he had 50 divisions at the start of the war, got 25 pretty well smashed north of Kiev, reformed the remaining 25 and escaped with more than half from the pocket. A crafty old cavalry officer, he has a fair position east of the Dnieper, but further development depends on how much of his heavy equipment has been able to bring across the river. (Probably not much. If Budyenny is gone, one of the three Red armies is knocked out.)

The Germans have crossed the Dnieper just north of Kiev, and are moving down upon Budyenny between the Dnieper and Don rivers. Their southern objective is the Red naval base at Sevastopol. The Red sea will be without a base, and the Germans can supply their Ukrainian forces easily through the winter by boat from Rumania.

A military rumor has reached high places that the Reds have been marshaling all available forces the past week for a last ditch counter-offense at the German center around Smolensk. Budyenny's forces were depleted, it is said, because a German drive through the Ukraine was not expected, and part of his army was shifted to the Moscow front in expectation of a move there. These forces were used for the desperate Red effort.

The Germans expect to get Odessa, Leningrad, Kiev in the immediate future, but whether Moscow will be reached before winter is doubtful. They especially want Leningrad, because the winter frozen marsh land around there is suitable for winter tank operations, and the Red have had no winter experience at that business (40 degrees below zero when even airplane motors have to be started with a blowtorch).

The conflict is turning into a war of attrition, in which the Reds are not well prepared. They are short on mechanical parts and mechanical replacements. Therefore, they cannot long continue their successful strategy of leaving pockets in the German lines.

Outbreaks of spotted typhus have already been reported, and both armies will suffer severely on this front, if the fighting goes into winter.

All in all, it seems quite possible for the Reds to salvage sufficient military force from the present battle to maintain a Voie through the winter at the Volga or west of it in some areas. If they do that, Hitler will have to keep an army of possibly 2,000,000 Germans on the ground through the winter, fed mostly by long, thin lines of supplies, across bottleneck bridges, in a hostile ground country, where the citizens have been trained to guerrilla warfare.

Stand of Illinois Legion on Issues of War Pondered

Annual Convention at Capital Sobered by World Conditions

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 22—(AP)—A move to put the American Legion on record against extending U. S. aid to soviet Russia took shape today as Illinois Legionnaires opened their 23rd annual state convention.

Colorful drum and bugle corps marched through the gaily-decorated streets with all the spirit of previous conventions of the ex-doughboys but serious consideration of America's stand on involvement in the European and Asiatic wars overshadowed the celebrations of former years.

Two of the most controversial resolutions among the 107 to be acted upon during the four-day convention would favor banning aid to Russia and demanding a vote of the people on "the extent of European involvement in the European war". Both were submitted by the Cook County Legion Council.

Actual work of the convention will not begin until tonight, when committees will meet to discuss the scores of resolutions.

The anti-Red resolution would "urge the president of the U. S. A. and congress to refrain from including Russia as a nation, a country or a people eligible to receive aid from the U. S. A. under terms of the so-called lend-lease bill or under any law of the U. S. A. or executive order of the president."

Shift Fight Expected
Although the Legion always has been strongly anti-communist, a stiff fight over the resolution was expected from Legionnaires who support the president's foreign policy.

At the convention in Danville last year, the Legionnaires approved the administration's plan for expanding the army and navy for defense but voted down a proposal to endorse the draft bill. The national defense committee also rejected a resolution opposing use of American troops in Europe.

A rift between former Governor John Stelle, one of the founders of the American Legion, and other state leaders of the veterans' organization came into the open when Stelle resigned one of his committee chairmanships, apparently in a dispute over election of a national executive committee-man.

William F. Waugh of Chicago, retiring commander, was reported receiving the support of Legion leaders for the post, which Stelle also had been seeking.

The only other major election contest before the convention was for senior vice commander, the stepping stone to the commandship. Four Cook county candidates for the job are Francis E. Phelan, Gordon Quinn, Joseph Bernhard and Russell Root.

N. Curtis Cation of Peoria, the present senior vice commander, is unopposed for election as commander.

The first session for all of the 1,269 delegates will be held Saturday afternoon when committees will report and Senator C. Wayne Brooks is scheduled to speak. The gala parade of the Legion will be held Sunday afternoon and will be followed by a speech by Governor Green.

The convention will end Monday with election of officers and a speech by Senator Scott W. Lucas.

Boisterous Gaiety Not Part of Life In Iceland Cities

(Note: Tom Horgan, Associated Press staff writer, has been on a voyage with vessels of the United States neutrality patrol and has visited the new defense bases in Iceland. Here is a story of what he found there, certain details being omitted at the request of the U. S. navy.)

By TOM HORGAN

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 12—(AP)—(Delayed)—American forces assigned to this amazing land of ice and fire may purchase for $2.50 a paper-covered, illustrated guide book which contains no truer or more significant advice than the following:

"It must be stated that those who seek a life of boisterous gaiety and attach importance to bodily comforts, have at present little reason to come to Iceland."

Of boisterous gaiety, there is none. The capital's leading hostelry, Hotel Borg, holds the only liquor license, and spirits are sold only to patrons who purchase a full meal, and then in strictly limited quantities between the hours of noon and 2:30 p.m., and in the evening between 7 and 11 o'clock.

Domestically brewed beer is sold freely, but even residents claim for it only one per cent alcoholic content and it has much the same flavor, aroma and potency as the Icelandic fogs which come rolling in from the sea without notice.

Dance Each Evening

The closest approach to merriment may be found at the Borg in the evening, when a three-piece orchestra furnishes dance music, thus disclosing a distinctive Icelandic custom. Groups of unescorted young women arrive shortly after the dinner hour. Some have hair the color of new Manila cordage; a few are as raven-haired and gray-blue eyed as any Irish colleen, a reminder that more than 20 per cent of Icelandic blood can be traced to the Emerald Isle.

The girls come to the hotel frankly eager to dance with the American and British officers, but they firmly decline to sit at the same table with their dancing partners or to accept refreshments.

Farmers More Cordial

In more than a week, this correspondent did not see a single man, American or British, with a girl companion. Common gossip has it that as punishment for associating with British soldiers, the flaxen tresses of several Icelandic maidens were shorn close by indignant countrymen.

Residents of rural sections, according to Americans who have been stationed here some time, are much more cordial than city dwellers and soon there should be a new version of the marine and the farmer's daughter - - hinkey, dinky, parley voo.

She was a kind and thoughtful friend, a good neighbor, a loving mother, thinking always of the needs of others. She will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends and neighbors who will remember her cheery words and bright smile with sincere regret in their loss. She leaves to mourn her passing one daughter, Mrs. W. D. Milliken of Dixon, one son, Dr. Frank O'Neal of Danville, Ill., and one granddaughter, Miss Hazel Rust of Dixon, and other relatives.

It was a beautiful sight. He took the buds, the blossoms too

She is placed in that fair garden For angels to watch o'er and guide.

And help her to welcome her loved ones When He calls them home to her side.

SERIAL STORY

SECRET VOYAGE

BY JOSEPH L. CHADWICK

YESTERDAY: Jim Mallory tells

Jeffery Hammond there is no one in the Sonora hold. Hammond knows that, admits he played along to keep Jim from reporting to the Coast Guard. He tells Jim the Sonora was scuttled by Bart Halloran, who was rescued, after being fired upon by a British warship in the American peninsula zone. She was transferred off and rubber to a belligerent ship. Hammond offers Mallory $5000 to give up the search and be silent, but Jim refuses. He plans to stay on the scene, Halloran there is something on the Sonora to salvage. Later Jim tells Lois Hammond he is on the verge of bankruptcy. She resigns at first to believe him, but Mary Larsen would have gone to New York with Eric Forbes if she hadn't believed Jim would strike it rich. Jim insists he has lost everything, and an enraged Lois accuses him of telling her off.

CHILL TERROR

CHAPTER XI

JIM MALLORY watched Lois walk away in her fury. Knowing that she was walking out of his life, he strangely felt no regrets. He shrugged her out of his thoughts, tossed his cigarette over the side, and walked along the deck to Joe Jacob's ladder that would take him down to the Aurora's boat.

Mary Larsen stood at the railing, the sun bright on her coppery hair. She turned and faced him, smiled and said, "Well, Jim?"

He halted. His face was stiff. He said, "So you didn't go to New York as Eric Forbes' secretary?"

"No, I didn't intend to. Do you remember what you said to me when I came aboard the Aurora back at the Landing, Jim?"

"I remember."

"Well, it does interest me. And I no longer care about the Sonora."

"I know, I know. I'm the fair-haired boy now. I've got the Sonora right in my hand. You play the game safe, don't you?"

"What do you mean by that?" Her smile was gone now, and hurt was in her eyes.

"What I mean is," he said, "that you put your money on the man who looks like a winner. Right now I look like a winner, to you."

She bit her lip and stared at him wordlessly.

Jim's voice ran on, cold and hard with anger. "You handed me a line about Bert Halloran being lost at sea, and all the while you knew he was merely hiding out and working on this Sonora thing. And you were working with him."

"I didn't know he was alive until I found that cigarette case, Jim," she said miserably. "I swear it."

"All right, all right. Stick to your story."

"Jim, believe me—please."

"Sure, Sure, I believe you. You didn't know Halloran was trying to bribe me, and threatening me. You didn't know that he was working with Forbes, and you don't know what's so valuable aboard the Sonora."

"And you didn't break with Halloran and Forbes and make a play for me, right now, because I beat them to the punch. Sure, I believe your story. Go on with it. Tell me you're in love with me—so long as you think I'm in the money."

She looked as though she had been slapped. There were tears in her eyes, and she kept biting hard on her under lip.

Finally she said, "AM right, Jim."

He went over the side and dropped into the Aurora's boat.

Aboard the Aurora, he went to his cabin. Curly came in and found him pacing back and forth like a caged tiger. Curly Bates lit his pipe and patiently waited.

"Curly, I'm the world's champion fool," Jim finally said. "I fall in love with a girl who isn't worth a man's second look."

"I knew that girl meant trouble when she first came aboard the Ajax tug, Jim."

"She made a play for me, because she thinks the Sonora is making me rich. What a laugh!"

Court Martial of VFW Commander is Drafting a Verdict

Southard Case May Be Decided at National Encampment

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—A court martial of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today was drafting its verdict in the case of Earl Southard, suspended Illinois Commander, who denied a charge that his work in behalf of an anti-war group violated the V. F. W. code. The first major hearing in the 42-year history of the veterans' group ended last night after a day of tension, climaxed by a fist attack on the commander of Southard's Chicago post which brought the charges against him. Southard, who testified he was wounded 19 times during overseas war service, is secretary of the Citizens Keep America Out of War Committee. His post charged the appearance of his name on a committee pamphlet advocating "no obedience" of the lease-lend act constituted a violation of the veterans' constitution and by-laws demanding loyalty to the United States.

His prosecutor declared Southard also was accused of subversive activities because of his committee work.

Testifying before the tribunal of past state commanders from ten states, Southard declared he did not subscribe to the statements in the pamphlet and his name was used without permission.

Protests His Loyalty Describing himself as a loyal citizen, a believer in the American way of life and a foe of all "isms" Southard said, "a man may be loyal to his government and yet oppose the principles of the current administration".

Four officers or former officers of the V. F. W. testified they had high regard for Southard's patriotism.

The verdict will not be announced before approval by the national commander who is in Philadelphia for the annual V. F. W. removal from office, suspension from membership for a specified period, or a public reprimand.

The commander of the post which instituted the case, William S. Dolan, said he was assaulted in a washroom of the hotel where the hearing was conducted by a man he identified as "one of the Southard gang". Dolan suffered a cut eye.

Third of Workers in Illinois Threatened by Material Shortage

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Defense priorities and a materials shortage, says state labor director Martin P. Durkin, are threatening the jobs of more than one-third of the workers in 25 Illinois manufacturing establishments.

Reporting on a survey of 15 cities, Durkin said it was found that manufacturers anticipate layoffs for 1,284 of the 3,400 workers they employ.

The firms affected manufacture products calling for such materials as copper, brass, chrome steel, aluminum, white metal, rubber, steel cadmium and plating supplies, kyanite and zinc and iron oxide.

Included in the survey were Chicago, Freeport, Rockford, LaGrange, Rock Island, Pekin, Springfield, Danville, Mattoon, Mt. Vernon and Nashville.

Most of the iron ore found in the Lake Superior region is a reddish variety known as hematite.

Churches in New York State are valued at $600,000,000.

Annual Meeting of Bethel Evangelical Church Wednesday

The annual Congregational meeting of the Bethel United Evangelical church was held Wednesday evening in charge of the pastor the Rev. R. S. Wilson. The pastor conducted the devotional part of the service, after which reports for the year were given and officers elected for the coming year. J. U. Weyant served as secretary for the annual meeting.

Reports indicated a year of activity in every realm. The membership at present is 233, and the Sunday school enrollment 256. An average attendance in the Sunday school during the past 12 months was 177. During the year the Sunday school contributed $1037.70.

The average attendance for the Wednesday night prayer services was reported at 50, and the average attendance of the morning church service was 139, and 103 at the evening services. During the year the pastor has preached 101 sermons, gave 100 talks and Bible studies, had part in ten funeral services, performed four wedding ceremonies as well as many other pastoral functions. 1150 pastoral calls were made during the last 12 months. This is the first year of Pastor Wilson's ministry of the church.

The church treasurer reported receipts for the year totaling $5019.04, all of which was contributed by free will offerings, with no finance drives, pledge or money-making schemes. Of this amount $3,164.46 was used for current expenses, $409.45 was used for missionary work, and $919.67 was applied on interest and principle of the parsonage debt. In addition to this various organizations of the church raised close to a thousand dollars for missionary work.

Election of officers resulted in reelection of Joseph Jeanguenot as trustee for five years. William Foster and Frank Norvell as class leaders, Richard Weyant as chorister, and Mrs. R. K. Weyant as pianist with Mrs. Myrtle Tracy as Assistant. Ushers reelected were Louis Zigler, Fred Hoffman, John Nelson, Oliver Harms and Theodore Gaul.

Former Director's Warning Unheeded, He Says at Trial

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Dr. A. C. Baxter, who was director of the state department of health when 60 persons died in a 1939 typhoid fever epidemic at Mandan state hospital, avera that officials of the institution declined to act on his warning that the water supply there might be contaminated.

Baxter's statement was contained in an answer filed yesterday to a Federal court suit in which nine construction workers at the hospital ask $150,000 damages on grounds that they contracted typhoid during the epidemic.

The former health director, A. L. Bowen, former state director of public welfare; Blanche Fritz, assistant director of the hospital, and a surety company were named defendants.

In his answer, Baxter stated he had no authority to close a well or shut off the water supply and that Bowen and Miss Fritz failed to heed his warning.

Bowen was convicted of omission of duty. The state Supreme court, however, freed him of responsibility for the deaths, ruling that it was not proved the well water had caused the epidemic.

State Prosecutes Men Who Allegedly Collected by Fraud

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 22—(AP)—Twenty-seven employees of the Armour & Company plant in East St. Louis were charged with defrauding the state under the Illinois unemployment compensation act in criminal informations filed in County Court yesterday by Assistant Attorney General Henry Clay Calhoun.

Names were withheld pending arrest of the defendants.

Calhoun said charges were filed after the state division of unemployment compensation investigated the records of 274 Armour employees. The 27 employees against whom action was taken were found to have collected more money than they were entitled to in amounts varying from $6 to $140.

In a prepared statement Attorney General George F. Barrett asserted that an "amazingly large number of persons have been cheating the state of unemployment compensation".

He said that while in individual cases the amounts might be considered petty, the total was far from a petty matter for taxpayers of Illinois.

"Every case turned over to us will be prosecuted vigorously" Barrett announced.

Wounded Aircraft Carrier Repaired in U. S. Shipyard

British Press Service Reveals Whereabouts of "Illustrious"

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—The British Press Service announces that the famous battle scarred aircraft carrier Illustrious is in an American shipyard undergoing repairs and that Capt. Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin of King George VI, who arrived by Clipper Tuesday, would command the ship and supervise repairs.

The announcement, authorized by the British ministry of information in London, did not disclose the exact whereabouts of the 23,000-ton vessel.

A British admiralty report published June 18 said the mighty vessel a year old and with a speed of more than 30 knots, was almost destroyed in axis planes attacks Jan. 10 near Sicily and again at Malta, where she took refuge.

These reports said her rudder gear broke and the ship careened crazily while a hail of bombs set numerous fires and killed about 80 of her 1,600 crewmen.

Secretary of the Navy Knox said in Washington last Feb. 2 that a direct hit by a 1,000 pound bomb had failed to affect the ship's power or navigation, but official British reports said she was damaged so severely that she had to be steered with her engines and barely reached port.

The German high command announced July 4, 1940, that she had been struck by a torpedo from a U-boat commanded by First Lieut. Endrasz. The day before the announcement the ship was anchored in peaceful Bermuda bay.

Commenting on the Jan. 10 attack, the Germans said they believed the ship would never leave Malta because she was resting on the bottom.

Capt. Mountbatten has survived the sinking of two destroyers in this war and has seen action in the Norwegian campaign, in the Atlantic, in the English channel and in the Mediterranean.

Larry Allen, Associated Press reporter, was aboard the Illustrious when nazi drive bombers attacked the ship for seven hours on Jan. 10 and his story told graphically of the attack.

Roosevelt Seeks To Avoid Taking Over Shipyards

(By The Associated Press) President Roosevelt said today the government did not want to take over Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's strike-bound Kearny, N. J., if it could be avoided.

The chief executive made this comment at his press conference at Hyde Park, N. Y., on the tie-up of the huge shipyard, which has $493,000,000 of defense contracts, while Detroit city officials continued efforts to settle the municipal transit strike there.

Roosevelt said he did not know and could not guess whether the government could avoid moving into the Kearny plant where the C. I. O. Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers is on strike.

Conferences were continuing in Washington on the Kearny situation and the union expressed hope of getting back to work by Monday. They said workers were "standing by" with that in view.

No Agreements Seen Night conferences in both the Kearny and Detroit cases ended without the slightest indication of agreement between strikers and management.

CIO steel workers called a strike at Republic Steel Corporation's Gadsden, Ala., plant but company officials said the mill, which has heavy defense orders, was operating with a reduced force.

Noel Beddow, Steel Workers Organizing Committee chief in Alabama, said the men were demanding pay "somewhat approaching that of steel mill workers" in the Birmingham district, a union shop and a union dues check off.

Beddow did not state what wage increases were demanded. A company spokesman said the wage scale at Gadsden was "approximately the same as in Birmingham mills, with a minimum scale of 55 cents an hour for common labor, and rates going as high as $3 per hour for skilled men."

Country club for Pines state park at 6:30, arriving at 7 o'clock where dinner will be served at 7:30. Governor Green spending the night at the park.

In the governor's official party will be newsmen, photographers, state highway officials and engineers who will accompany him on a nine-day tour of the state. The Lincoln Highway inspection will be the starting point of the contemplated tour, which will take Governor Green into practically every section of the state in order that he may better acquaint himself with the condition of the important state highways.

President Knack stated today that about 200 of the 300 tickets allotted to Dixon for the governor's luncheon at Sterling had been sold. When the remainder are disposed of no additional tickets may be obtained. In the meantime, Mayor Slothower is meeting with great success in the sale of memberships to the Lincoln Highway Association, whose sole objective is to secure the modernization and restoration of the historic transcontinental motor route.

Will Have Busy Week

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 22 (AP) Governor Green will begin a busy week Sunday when he addresses the state convention of the American Legion.

On Tuesday, he is scheduled to fly to French Lick, Ind., for a tri-state Republican meeting and the national convention of his college fraternity, Kappa Sigma, on Wednesday.

Returning Thursday, he will speak first at a community meeting in Hillsboro and then fly to Chicago to witness the All-Star football game. On Friday he is to be the guest of Rep. Reed Cutler (R-Lewistown) at a Lewis-town picnic.

A trip to the Madison county fair is tentatively scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 31, and on Labor Day the governor will speak in Chicago at the annual Republican picnic at Riverview park.

The governor's traveling won't end then, however, because on Tuesday, Sept. 2, he will leave on a nine-day inspection tour of state institutions, parks and highways.

and freedom of the press had not been specifically named in the original declaration. They privately expressed the belief that Roosevelt had used the opportunity of a formal report to congress to leave no doubt that those two freedoms were embraced in the peace aims.

Senator Brooks (R-Ill.) however, asserted that Churchill apparently realized that Great Britain and the United States "would not guarantee freedom of religion or of the press through our new ally, Joe Stalin. Yet the president sent his message to congress to renew his assertion of the four freedoms."

To guarantee the world any of those freedoms, Brooks continued, "it would be necessary to send American troops to foreign lands. The people are opposed to that," he insisted.

Within "Courtesy Period"—It was relayed here by the British minister to Tehran, Sir Read-er William Bullard, and already under consideration at the foreign office.

The Iranian reply thus reached London inside the week usually assigned in diplomatic circles as a "courtesy period" within which replies to memoranda or notes between governments should be made. British quarters, although acknowledging that Iran was pressed for a quick answer, denied that an ultimatum had been issued.

Usually well-informed persons called the presence of German technicians in key Iranian industrial and communications positions serious but they said a "satisfactory" answer would make the British and Russians content to let Iran out the Nazis herself.

Predicts Resistance—Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Mohammed Shachyesteh, the Iranian minister, declared today that Iran would resist aggression from any source.

The minister, after conferring with Secretary of State Hull, told newspapermen that Iran would fight against Germany, Russia, Britain or any other force—even though the odds were ten to one—to prevent aggression on Iranian soil.

Denying that there were any German fifth columnists in Iran, the minister said that the total German population of his country was approximately 700.

Koh Ishi, Tokyo foreign office spokesman, said Japan hoped for United States assurances that any such planes would not remain at Vladivostok—thus leaving the clear implication that Japan would be less worried if the planes were on the coast of Russia or the western front for use against the Germans.

"Linked with this curious expression, since Japan is Germany's ally, the Japanese cabinet adopted a new plan for mobilization of material resources designed to speed national defense preparations and make Japan self-sufficient.

Tokyo advices said the plan was aimed especially at assuring Japan adequate supplies of iron, steel and coal within the East Asia "co-prosperity sphere."

Simultaneously, Thailand (Siam) warned its people to dig air-raid shelters as a "common-sense preparedness."

The Thai radio told the populace however, that the government fully trusted Japanese and British assurances that no attack on the country was contemplated. The broadcast said an offensive from British Malaya or Burma was strategically impracticable, but it added that a direct attack from Japanese-occupied French Indochina might be more feasible.

In Shanghai, the Japanese army began erecting barbed wire barricades around Shanghai's city limits, stirring apprehension among non-axis foreign residents. Japanese officials gave the explanation that it was necessary to prevent terrorists from entering or leaving.

The Tokyo newspaper Hochi, commenting on the shipment of American aviation gasoline to Vladivostok through Japanese waters, declared it would undoubtedly reach the Russian Far East armies and was an "American design to add menace to the Japanese army along the Soviet-Manchukuo border."

Russia is estimated to have 1,000,000 troops in the Far East, facing upward of 500,000 Japanese massed on the Manchukuo-Siberia frontier.

Attorney James E. Bales, Police Magistrate for the city of Dixon for the past two and one-half years, this afternoon filed with City Clerk Wayne Smith, for presentation to the city council at its meeting this evening, his resignation from that office, effective Aug. 31. Mr. Bales has found that his duties as assistant attorney general for this district take too much of his time to permit his continuing as police magistrate, he says in his letter, the text of which follows:

Text of Resignation

"During the past two and one-half years, I have served the people of the city of Dixon as their Police Magistrate. I am very grateful to these people for their faith in me as evidenced by my election. I regret that it is not possible for me to complete my term as their servant. However, my private practice of law and my duties as Assistant Attorney General do not allow me sufficient time to properly carry on my duties as Police Magistrate. As long as I cannot devote the proper amount of time to efficiently serve the people, I feel that in all fairness to them, I should submit my resignation."

"I have at all times endeavored to be fair, honest and just with everyone. I have received splendid cooperation from the city, county and state officers, which I sincerely appreciate. I am grateful for the assistance rendered by the news staff of the Dixon Evening Telegraph, which, on many occasions, through the medium of publicizing warnings to the motoring public, lessened the number of violations."

"I regret that I am unable to complete my term as an official of the city of Dixon, but I shall long remember my association with the city government and I assure you that the honor bestowed upon me by the people of Dixon will always be remembered."

Washington First To Feel Pinch of Gasoline Shortage

Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Real or phony, the east's long forecast gasoline shortage was pinching motorists today, with the nation's Capital hit earliest and heaviest.

Some Washington filling station sold pleasure car drivers only half as much as they ordered. Others put a limit of five gallons on individual sales; others went as low as three. Yet some establishments were complying without question when requested to "fill 'er up."

Ralph K. Davies, acting petroleum coordinator, renewed his denunciation of prophets who he said had "arisen to proclaim that there is no danger" and that "the warnings of an impending shortage are phony."

He said false figures were being circulated in an apparent attempt to "confuse the public" by challenging the necessity of diverting American tankers to British war supply service.

That diversion of vessels was necessary, government officials said, and they declared it reduced the flow of oil to the east from Gulf ports to such an extent that last week's curtailment order became necessary. Jobbers have been instructed to reduce their deliveries to filling stations 10 per cent below last month. Now some retailers are discovering that their August quota is nearly gone and they must further restrict sales to individual customers.

John is now pitching for Newark in the International League where he has had an excellent record both as a hurler and batsman. He is expected to visit here this fall after the season closes, and the local lads would like to put on a big spurge. Last season John was slated to meet Nelson Potter in the "Potter Day" event at Mt. Morris but the rain washed the game out of existence. It is hoped that Lindell might pitch for the Knacks in a big game here, and an effort will be made to get Kevane, state semi-pro champions as the opposition. It's all just talk so far—but a good idea just the same.

IN TRAPSHOOTING TOURNAMENT

John Prentice of Paw Paw who last year won some do-re-me in the Grand American Handicap trapshooting tournament, is now in Vandalia, O. for the 1941 event and hopes to come out with more than shattered clay targets. Prentice left for the tournament Wednesday and was to have taken the head yesterday and today.

SETTING THE STAGE

The Mendota Chatterbox softball team which meets the Dixon all-stars here at the Airport tonight, remained undefeated and in a tie for first place with the Odd Fellows in the LaSalle Playground Commission Senior Softball league by walloping Frank's Boot Shop, 15 to 1, Wednesday night. Thompson was almost invincible on the mound for Mendota as he gave up but two hits and struck out 19. In the first game tonight the Dixon One-Stop girls' team will meet the Ohio lassies.

SURE, HE'S AN ALL-STAR

Ya can't do that to Shires—ya can't leave a guy like that out of an all-star softball team. It just ain't cricket. So—Shires Miller is to play on the team tonight when the boys face the Mendota Chatterbox club here in a feature game at the Airport. It was just one of those slip-ups which left Shires name out of the list published the other night—he's been the managers' choice all along.

FOCUSING ON MAYTOWN

The Rev. Fr. Urban Halbmair's Maytown baseball team will keep in trim for the big Labor Day doubleheader by meeting the Spring Valley team on the Maytown diamond this Sunday afternoon, Aug. 24. On the holiday, Sept. 1, the Maytowners will meet the Dixon Knacks in a morning game and the Hove's All-Stars of Rock Falls at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The doubleheader is part of the 31st annual picnic and homecoming event which also carries such feature attractions as a chicken dinner and supper, music by the St. Vincent's Organpipe band and a dance in the evening.

NEW SHELTER HOUSE

NATION'S RICHEST GOLF TOURNAMENT

Ken Detweiler is toying with the idea of entering the $11,000 Tam O'Shanter Open golf tournament in Chicago Sept. 4-7. Even if Ken doesn't go as a player, he will be a member of the gallery at this—the richest tournament in the nation. Approximately fifty will qualify automatically for the meet while the remainder of the field of 175 must pass qualifying tests.

GOLF HARAKIRI

Los Angeles, Aug. 22—(AP)—Guy Price, Jr., playing in a golf tournament at Lake Arrowhead, pitched a shot toward the green.

The gallery ahead, trying to follow the ball's flight, lost it in the sun. Suddenly they heard it strike, and a man groan.

He had been hit; his wrist broken.

Snively's Job Is To Make All-Star Gridders Shine

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Carl Snively, who in the fall coaches Cornell's football team, currently is engaged in an astronomical assignment which involves fitting a field full of stars into a constellation of first degree brilliance.

His creation will be subjected to close scrutiny Thursday night by the Chicago Bears and 93,000 fans at the eighth annual All-Star football game in Soldier Field. Snively and his assistants are working at Dwyer stadium in suburban Evanston with the choicest names on last year's college football programs, the 1941 seniors chosen in a nation-wide poll of fans. The Bears, 1940 professional football champions, who punctuated their season with a 73 to 0 conquest of Washington in the title game, are unlimbering their muscles at Delafield, Wis.

Must Start High Vote Getters
Snively is bound by the rules of this game to start the 11 players ranking highest in votes. Thus he isn't concerned about his lineup for the opening kickoff. But he can - - and probably will - - make replacements in the first minutes and it's his problem to choose a unit which can stop the Bear's mighty T formation and also score the touchdowns necessary for a victory.

On paper the startling eleven is a dream unit, with only one man under six feet in height. The ends are Dave Rankin of Purdue and Ed Rucinski of Indiana; tackles, Nick Drahos of Cornell and Ernest Pannell of Texas A. & M.; guards, Augie Lio of Georgetown and Tommy O'Boyle of Tulane, who stands 5 feet 9 1/2 inches tall. The center is Rudy Mucha of Washington.

And what a backfield! Forest Evashevski of Michigan is at quarter, Tom Harmon of Michigan and George Franck of Minnesota at the halves and George Paskvan of Wisconsin at full.

The professionals hold an edge in the series, started in 1934, with three victories and two defeats. Two other games were ties.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Bob Feller, Indians—Shut out Yankees on seven hits for 21st victory.
Dutch Leonard and Sid Hudson, Senators—Each pitched six-hit ball to take doubleheader from the Tigers.
Wait Judnich and Roy Cullenbine, Browns, and Tom Ferrick, Athletics—Judnich and Cullenbine each batted in three runs with two hits in first game; Ferrick pitched four-hit shutout in nightcap.
Jimmy Foss, Red Sox—Batted in two runs with triple and single in win over White Sox.
Jake Moody, Cubs—Stopped Dodgers with seven-hit hurling.
Bucky Walters, Reds—Kept 10 hits shutout to beat Braves.
Max Butcher, Pirates—Checked Giants with clever pitching for sixth win of season over New York.
Emmitt Mueller, Phillies—Led off ninth inning with double to start winning rally against the Cardinals.

TRAPSHOOTERS WILL WIND UP CLAY TARGET CARNIVAL TODAY

Vandalia, O., Aug. 22—(AP)—Trapshooting's top-flight event, the Grand American Handicap with more than $10,000 at stake, comes up today as the big finale of the 42nd annual clay target carnival—and as usual the winner likely will be an "unknown from nowhere."

With the hot-shots placed as far as 25 yards from the traps, while the novices are as close as 16, the better marksmen have little chance to take the blue ribbon event.

Just how that works out was illustrated yesterday as Elmer E. Lucas, a 31-year-old filling station operator at Peebles, O., cracked 99 of 100 to take the $5,000 preliminary handicap, shot over the same course and under the same conditions, as the "roaring grand."

Lucas was participating in his first championship shoot of any kind, and was arrayed against 980 of the best marksmen in the land.

The big handicap has been won by railway conductors, mail men, oil men, mechanics, millionaires, 14-year-old boys, 70-year-old men, store owners and a host of others, but no one ever has won it twice.

CARDS AND DODGERS MARK TIME FOR OPENING OF VITAL SERIES

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals have struggled all season without proving anything important, and nothing that can happen during the remainder of the week is going to change this record.

The two rivals for the National League pennant simply are marking time for the opening of their vital four-game series Sunday Brooklyn. This marking time yesterday took the form of both teams losing and thus maintaining the 1 1/2 game margin which separates the Dodgers in first place from the Redbirds in second.

Manager Leo Durocher has been trying to line up his pitching staff for the Cardinals series. He started Kirby Higbe out to turn Wednesday against Pittsburgh in order to have him ready for Sunday. Higbe was knocked out, but the Dodgers won anyway.

Yesterday Durocher decided to bet Whitlow Whatt for one of Sunday's two games. So he started Luke Hamlin against the sixth-place Chicago Cubs. This decision proved more disastrous as the Cubs cruised to a 6-2 victory, ending a six-game Brooklyn winning streak.

Bases Loaded

Hamlin gave two runs in the first two innings and then Mace Brown, loaded the bases with none out in the third. Durocher rushed Wyatt onto the scene for his first relief job of the season. The lean right-hander gave the Cubs their other runs. Little Jake Moity kept the Dodgers under his thumb with seven hits.

The Cardinals muffed a golden opportunity to cut down distance by losing to the last-place Phillies, 5-4, in a night game at Philadelphia.

The Cards banged out 15 hits and brought Mort Cooper up to the ninth inning with a 4-2 lead. Emmett Mueller opened with a double Bob Bragan duplicated it for the tying run, and Howard Krist who hurried to the rescue, yielded a single to Ben Warren for the winning tally.

Cincinnati's red-hot Reds picked up a game on the leaders by beating the Boston Braves, 8-5, but still were 91 games behind first place. It was the 11th triumph in 12 tries for the world champions. Bucky Walters easily coasted to his 16th victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates bounced back from their four-straight defeats at Brooklyn by nipping the New York Giants, 5-3, behind big Max Butcher, who now has stopped the Giants six times this season.

Feller Wins 21st

In the American League Bob Feller found the time was ripe for his 21st victory, a 2-0 shutout of the pace-setting New York Yankees. Feller, who had won only one other game in more than a month, scattered seven hits and fanned nine for Cleveland's first triumph in 10 games and New York's second straight shutout. Atley Donald, who had beaten Feller twice in previous encounters held the Tribe to eight hits and was supreme after the Tribe scored the only runs of the contest in the first inning.

The defeat cost the Yankees nothing but embarrassment, however, because the second-place Chicago White Sox' nine-game winning streak was snapped by Boston, 8-5.

The Washington Senators swept a double-header from Detroit on two six-hit pitching jobs by Dutch Leonard and Sid Hudson, 6-3, and 9-0, and climbed to sixth place, as the Philadelphia Athletics split with the last-place St. Louis Browns. Bob Harris held the A's to eight blows as the Browns took the opener, 11-3, Tom Ferrick retaliated with a four-hit shutout in the nightcap which the Athletics won, 12-0.

Sam Chapman hit three home runs during the proceedings.

WHIRLY RETURNS TO CHICAGO FOR AMERICAN DERBY

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Whirlaway is back in the town which proved so inhospitable to him last month with its Arlington classic, jinx race of champions.

Tomorrow the 3-year-old with the one-eyed blinker will run in the historic American Derby at Washington Park in an attempt to show what was expected of him July 26 before he ran second to attention. Four other horses were expected to face the triple crown winner, including Bushwhacker, rated as a leading threat.

To a Tee, Daily Trouble and Delray were the other probable starters.

While Whirlaway is highly favored to take the $40,000 31st running of the derby, Chicago turf fans recall how he lost to attention at Arlington, and how favorites had lost previously in cinch races. Gallant Fox, for example, fell by the wayside in the 1930 American Derby to Reveille Boy.

Whirlaway, with $275,636 prize money already won, could boost his earnings to around $320,000 by taking the winner's share tomorrow.

DICK CHAPMAN SUGGESTS GOLF TO BOLSTER MORALE

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 22—(AP)—Amateur Champion Dick Chapman would like to have Uncle Sam's soldiers swinging golf clubs as well as carrying rifles.

The sturdy army athletic officer, gunning for his second straight national amateur golf title, suggests golf could play an important part in boosting the morale of the soldier boys.

The New York socialite, here on a 15-day furlough from Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., to take on all challengers in the amateur tournament starting Monday, would like to see:

1. A series of Red Cross golf exhibitions with prominent officers now in the army participating.

2. Inter-camp golf matches.

3. Matches between the army camps and the townspeople.

"I believe that the program would attract tremendous interest and be a big help in building army morale," says the young officer.

Vroegindewey and Wadsworth Win in Tourney Matches

The terrific heat in the current Plum Hollow golf tournament is cooling now until after that important inter-club match with the Country club Sunday. But before the "recess" began, there were a few sizzling matches last night. Take for instance:

Clarence Vroegindewey defeated Clyde Yount, 2 up, in their Class C match. "Dewey" came back to the clubhouse with a 103 total while Clyde "allowed as how" he had a 109. Scores (published at our own risk) were:

OUT
Yount 765 655 784—53
Dewey 588 665 755—55

IN
Yount 565 975 676—56
Dewey 565 766 475—51

In a Class B match Elwin Wadsworth defeated Jim Palmer, 2 up, in a second round matching. Their scores:

OUT
Wadsworth 454 565 553—42
Palmer 465 656 644—46

IN
Wadsworth 545 654 763—45
Palmer 555 744 664—46

The only other second round match now written in the books in the Class B play between Paul Reynolds and Don Bush which Reynolds won with an 8 up count. Paul had an 89 and Bush a 93.

Included in the matches tomorrow is the one between Spud Ryan and Harold Rorer in Class B. By tomorrow night this class will have reached the semi-finals.

Bert Meek and Abe Martin, Class B, players are scheduled to finish their match tonight. At the end of nine holes Abe had Meeks 1 up.

(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)

New York, Aug. 22—(The Special News Service)—Gene Mako has about made up his mind to quit tennis after this year... What's this about the Chicago Bears shifting Automatic Jack Manders from fullback to guard? ...Looks like that's taking an awful chance with that educated too... Ted Williams tells the Boston Traveler's Fred Knight that he wants to hit over .400 this summer just so he can pop off about it all winter... Of course, next year's contract couldn't have a thing to do with it either... Well, Monte Pearson won that game for the Reds before he was shipped down the river... So he bows out with an even hundred wins (ag his big league career).
